Situated on the first floor, for example is The Kitchen Table—a unique proposition for those informal meetings that require a dedicated on-hand chef.

Conversely, The Boardrooms, on the second and fourth floor, are designed as unassuming spaces for key strategic business meetings.

On the third floor of Mortimer House, is our classic lounge-inspired Drawing Room. Each of these individual meeting rooms benefit from the option to have bespoke menus delivered at any time of day, reflecting the premium hospitality and service that is core to our philosophy.
